Didsbury's First Mayor Passes Away After Long Illness

After a lingering illness lasting for nearly five years Mr. G. B. Sexsmith, one of Didsbury's oldest residents, ex-Mayor and business man, passed away on Friday night last at his residence in Didsbury. Mr. Sexsmith had been confined to his bed for about four years and while at times he seemed to rally no hope was ever held out for his recovery.

The passing of this genial, warm hearted soul will bring back to the memory of a great many of us the lively, vigorous days of Didsbury's early years when the free and open, unhandled community life was a source of constantly recurring episodes which made those days a never ending source of keen local interest and excitement, in which Mr. Sexsmith played a very large and prominent part.

He came here with his family in 1900 from the Olds district in which he had lived for a short time after he came from Manitoba. It was not long after settling in Didsbury before he began to be recognized as a man whose ability, discretion and happy disposition would be a great asset in community affairs. Consequently he began to take a prominent leading part in all of the activities of town and district. He was one of the first Presidents of the local Board of Trade, which was a flourishing institution in those early days, and then he was elected Reeve, following the late Mr. C. Hiebert who was the first Reeve.

Didsbury's First Mayor

Mr. Sexsmith was one of the originators of the town municipality and when all the necessary proceedings had been taken to form the municipality he was unanimously elected Didsbury's first Mayor in 1907. From this time forward he was hardly ever out of municipal politics for any length of time, being elected to the Mayor's chair several times, a prominent member of the School Board of which he was chairman for some years, and at one time carrying the banner for the Conservative in the Didsbury constituency in a provincial election but was defeated by the Liberal candidate by a small majority. He was so popular that he was constantly called upon to take a leading part in social circles and because of his genial disposition, humor and tact he was generally selected as chairman of the occasion. In religious life he was chairman for a number of years of the Knox Presbyterian church Board of Managers and a strong adherent of the church. His fraternal associations were also strongly identified with the local Masonic and Odd-fellows organizations.

He disposed of his business activities in December, 1918, of auctioneer, real estate and insurance, to Mr. J. Phillips, and shortly after was taken ill.

He leaves Mrs. Sexsmith, one son, four daughters and a brother to mourn the loss of a loyal, indulgent husband and father. George, who served a number of years overseas with the 31st Batt. and who was seriously wounded, Eva (Mrs. W. Hopkings) of Los Angeles (who was a public school teacher in Didsbury for a great many years) Margaret, Vera and Thelma, and brother John of Carmen, Manitoba. One son, Earl, predeceased him in 1915, being killed in an auto accident at Ashcroft, B. C.

The funeral services were held at the home on Thanksgiving Day, a very large number of friends of the deceased and his family attending. Rev. Mr. McNutt of Knox Presbyterian church, conducted the services at the home after which the local Masonic Lodge, King Hiram, A. F. and A. M., took charge of the interment. Wor. Bro. T. Thompson, Master of King Hiram, and Rev. Bro. Short of Olds, with the assistance of the brethren present conducting the simple but beautiful Masonic service for their departed brother and friend at the graveside. The pall bearers, besides being Masons, were all old friends and business associates of Mr. Sexsmith and were Messrs. W. G. Lissemer, A. G. Studer, Mayor H. W. Chambers, J. M. Reed, J. W. Phillips and H. E. Osmond. Rev. W. Durre had charge of the funeral arrangements which were conducted in a very satisfactory and impressive manner.

There were a large number of beautiful wreaths and sprays from fraternal organizations and friends testifying to the esteem in which deceased was held as well as the family.

Mrs. Sexsmith, who has had an extremely hard battle with the long illness of her good husband, will receive the entire sympathy of the whole community in her loss.

Robbers Break Into Drug Store--Team Smashes Window

A great deal of excitement was caused on Saturday morning last when it was found that Mayor Chambers' drug store had been forcibly entered during the night and four bottles of "Johnny Walker," or some other well known brand, as well as his fine cash register and a number of smaller articles had been abducted.

The thieves had broken through a rear window of the dispensing department and then rumbled and unlocked the door leading to the back yard of the store. It is thought that the robbers made their haul about midnight as Mr. Chambers, who had been at the residence of Mrs. Sexsmith and was sitting up that night, had occasion to go to his store about 1 p. m., when he discovered conditions as related above. On his way back he saw a democrat "driving along the road in the dark but was unable to distinguish the driver and he thought there was another person in the car as well. He called out to them thinking they could help him out but instead of stopping the driver immediately responded by lashing his horses into a gallop. The cash register, badly damaged, was found by Mr. J. McDougall on the side of the road as he was coming into town on Saturday.

Had His Big Window Smashed Too

Bad luck seemed to be camping on the trail of the Mayor on Saturday. He not only suffered through the robbery on Friday night but on Saturday afternoon the fates landed him another walloping when a team belonging to Mr. O'Brien, which was standing over near Barrett's office on the east side of the railroad, suddenly took it into their heads to make a break in pursuit of happiness and freedom, and bolted up King Edward's.

Four Year Contract Fixed By Farmers For Manitoba Pool

Wholesale. A resolution expressing preference for the principle of a one-pool system, with a selling agency for the three provinces, was passed practically unanimously at a conference of members of district boards of the United Farmers of Manitoba, held here. The resolution, while expressing preference for the one-pool system, was not in any way opposed to cooperating in the present system of a pool for each province.

A discussion took place on the wheat pool contract, the clauses in which were reviewed in detail and general agreement expressed with the terms of contract. The agreement provides for the shipping up of 23 1/2 per cent. of the average for April 1, instead of, in the past, as in the case of the Saskatchewan contract, and it will be for four years, so that it will not terminate with the latter agreement, which runs five years from this season the Manitoba one commencing in 1924.

Former officials of the United Grain Growers now hold three of the key positions on the staff of the pool. Canada's first provincial co-operative when marketing concern.

Hon. Germany May Be Drawn Into A Civil War By Saxony's Attitude

Attempt to Rob B.C. Bank

Bandits Escaped After Unsuccessful Attempt to Blow Door

Greenwood, B.C.—A daring attempt to rob the bank of Montreal here was made by several bandits, who, after cutting all telegraph and telephone wires, made an unsuccessful attempt to blow open the door of the vault on the bank premises. The door, however, held. The bandits were captured by a citizen, who was fired at by one of the robbers, and made good their escape in a high powered car.

Berlin. Events in Saxony are fast shifting to a point where the Berlin government will be forced to call in a showdown with Dr. Zeigler's Communist Socialist ministry, which is daily becoming bolder in its defiance of the central government's authority, as decreed in the existing state of emergency, and asserted by General Von Mueller, the military commander in the Saxon army province.

The position of President Ebert and Chancellor Stresemann in the present situation has been made very complicated through the action by the Left of Socialist party's governing body, which demands immediate abrogation of the existing state of siege. It is now that the legal relations between the imperial states and the central government can be restored.

When one considers Communist like Thoenen, Thiermer and Herr Doetterle occupying the posts of directors of the chambers and minister of finance, respectively, Saxon industrial and financial leaders declare that the state economy are wholly exposed to the arbitrary dictate of our modern Bolshevists, whose presence in Saxon's cabinet suffices to nullify the less radical attitude of the Socialists toward industry and finance.

Financing Export Of Russ Grain to Europe

Company Is Composed Of Russian and British Interests

London.—An agreement was signed in London for the formation of a Russo British grain export company. The Russian trade delegation announced. The company will be composed chiefly of Russian and British interests on the Russian side of representation of governmental and co-operative organizations, on the British side of the Co-operative Wholesale Society and grain and shipping firms. The purpose is to finance exports of Russian grain to Europe generally.

Leading British banks are expected to finance the scheme up to £1,000,000. It is started.

Russia Summons Troops

Has Called Up Three Classes For Army Training

Moscow.—Soviet Russia has called up the three territorial classes of 1898, 1899 and 1900 for territorial army training. Simultaneously there appeared in the official newspaper, Izvestia, a striking cartoon, depicting a stern-eyed Red soldier watching the Polish border with the position, "They are risking it to pass the frontier of my patience."

The calling up of the territorialists is in line with the long-concluded multiple visiting plan, and probably has no particular significance, but it is obvious from declarations made on all sides that the Moscow Government, while seeking to avoid participation in the German struggle, nevertheless is taking no chances that it will be unprepared for eventualities.

British Ships Will Visit Canada Soon

Biggest Battleship in Navy to Make Empire Tour

London.—The battleships Hood and Repulse, with a light cruiser squadron, will sail about the middle of next month on an Empire tour. They will proceed by way of South Africa to Singapore, thence to New Zealand, Australia and New Zealand to British Columbia, where they will probably arrive about June. From British Columbia the Hood and Repulse will proceed through the Panama Canal to Halifax and Quebec, the light cruisers visiting South America.

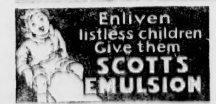

It is expected calls will be made at several United States ports en route. The entire cruise is planned to take about 10 months. The Hood is the biggest battleship in the navy, and represents the last word in naval construction.

Plenty of Work

Three Thousand Jobs Are Offered By Farmers For Winter Work

Winnipeg.—Three thousand applications from farmers of Western Canada for help for late fall and winter work are at present in the office of the Immigration Department, here. Thence, with western commissions of immigration, stated, Mr. Kelly said also that 1,200 British harvesters had been placed on the farms for winter work.

Wages offered for winter work range from $10 per month to $20 and $25, the higher rate being for men with some experience.

Bronze Trophy For Livestock Competition In Four Western Provinces

Symbols of the livestock which once reigned the Western Prairies in untamed glory, the magnificent bronze trophy for which livestock judging teams from the four western provinces will compete at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto next November, is a prize which will be eagerly coveted. But the trophy is in itself only a visible sign of what is at stake in this competition. The terms upon which it is offered mean that each of the four western provinces has an opportunity now and every year, an opportunity which was never before placed within such easy reach, to carry off judging honors at the International Livestock show, the premier exhibition in America, that held in Chicago in December. For whichever provincial team may win the trophy at Toronto will be given a trip to Chicago, all expenses being provided for by the donors of the trophy, where it may touch its judgment with that of America's foremost experts in livestock.

The primary object in the minds of the donors of this splendid trophy, W. C. Macdonald Reg'd, Inc., tobacco manufacturers of Montreal, is to stimulate interest in mixed farming and more particularly in livestock breeding in the west. This is a part of a policy laid down by the founder of W. C. Macdonald Reg'd, Inc., the late Sir William Macdonald who, many years ago, recognized the need of stabilizing the west's annual income, insuring it against disaster which must occur from time to time where everything is staked on one crop by promoting an interest in general farming, and by bringing back in a modified form and under better auspices, the old stock raising practices for which the west was once noted.

The late Sir William Macdonald had used untiringly with this end in view and gave vast sums of money to encourage the promotion of mixed farming on a scientific basis in the west. His successors, loyal to the traditions of their founder, who will always be remembered as one of Canada's most generous friends of scientific and technical education, are continuing this task and the trophy illustrated above is but one example of their devotion.

to the principles of the late Sir William Macdonald.

The trophy is offered for annual competition among the four western provinces. This is testified by the emblems of the four provinces mounted at the four corners of the base, and by the plates upon which will be inscribed, year after year, the names of the winning teams.

It is, however, one thing to offer a trophy and another to place all competitors upon an equal footing for it. This was recognized, so in addition to offering the trophy, W. C. Macdonald Reg'd, Inc., are also providing funds whereby to defray the travelling expenses of the competing teams from their western homes to the Royal Show at Toronto and back home again.

Then, that Western Canada may have an opportunity to match her best judges with those of the United States, W. C. Macdonald Reg'd, Inc., will pay all expenses of the winning team to the show at Chicago in December.

The entire scheme is one which assures Western Canada an excellent opportunity to win world repute for its knowledge of livestock. In going to the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto the four teams will be afforded what will be in effect a post-graduate course in stock judging. They will go to broaden their knowledge and to extend it.

And so the winning team will go to Chicago periodically well qualified to make a name for itself. In a certain sense the contest at Toronto will be a final trial, a sort of dress rehearsal, and it has confidently been expected that under such conditions the winning team will do all manner to itself when it meets America's best in the Illinois city.

Apart from the interest attached to the trophy by virtue of what it signifies, the fact that it is one of the handsomest bronze castings ever produced, it was cast by Moore, Henry Hiles & Sons of Montreal, Winnipeg, Calgary and Vancouver, at their Montreal foundry and is the final expression of an artistic conception handled by skill of artisans. The magnificent Buffalo Bull is the first one-piece casting of its size ever produced in this country. It weighs in the neighborhood of eighty pounds and is mounted upon a hand-some hand-carved oak base. An engraved plaque identifies the trophy, and the crests of the four western provinces are delicately executed in enamel upon silver.

The trophy will be competed for annually. The Western College whose team scores highest in the main judging event at the Royal Winter Fair will automatically possess the trophy.

Crossing the Desert to Jerusalem

By Mrs. D. C. Eby

Jerusalem, October 5th, 1923 Our train pulled out from Kantara, on the Sinai Military Railroad, at midnight. For four hours we went steadily onward over the desert. All that we saw for this space was darkness and sand.

The windows and doors were closed tight and the shutters drawn for reinforcement against the drifting sand. But in spite of this, sand seeped through every available crack until the interior of each coach and the passengers were covered with a white layer of sand. We brushed sand until tongue, throat and nostrils protested against this dry and irritating enemy, and we felt that we would gladly don the cloth the traveling Arab wears over his mouth and nose, for protection from sand storms.

Just after we passed Gaza, between four and five a. m., the landscape became visible, and we were surprised at the great number of oases that streaked dotted the desert throughout, their green foliage contrasting pleasantly with the yellow desert sands.
We called to mind that it was through this same desert that Jacob traveled to visit his son, Joseph, in Egypt.

We then passed through the country of the Philistines to the railway Junction at Lydda. Here we got on the train that runs from Jaffa to Jerusalem. The first town we came to was Ramleh, after which we crossed the plain of Sharon to the ancient Philistine city of Ekron. All was dry and barren in appearance at this time of year.

This was the road over which the ark of the Covenant was brought from Gath, and over which General Allenby's troops marched, encountering the most determined resistance of the Turks four miles south of Ekron.

We pass Gezer and think of the wars there between David and the Philistines, and of the magnificent dash of Allenby's troops up the hill on which it stands. Then we came to Zorah and the summit of a lofty hill was pointed out as the birthplace of Samson.

The next station was the sight of Bethzeker, where the Philistines defeated the Israelites and captured the ark in the time of Eli. Our train then entered a gorge which is really the pass to the mountains round about Jerusalem. Here, on the left of the entrance is a high precipice overhanging the ravine. Near the top is a large cave where Samson hid from the Philistines: where the men of Judah bound him and delivered him to the enemy, at the sight of whom he broke his bonds, and with the jawbone of an ass slew two thousand Philistines. This height is called the Height of the Jawbone.

The train then slowly winds its way for an hour or more up the steep incline through the mountains until finally we stopped at Bethlehem, where Joshua conquered a Canaanite city. Half an hour later, in the middle of the forenoon, tired and breakfastless, after a sleepless night, we entered the city of Jerusalem.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 14th,

BURNSIDE

We are sorry to report the death of Annes, the 17 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McCulloch.
Although slightly ill for a few days she was thought to be much improved but on Friday took a turn for the worse and died in the Didsbury Hospital on Saturday morning.
The funeral was held at 3 o'clock on Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs.
McCulloch have the sincerest sympathy of the whole community in their bereavement.

Mr. Mike Stumpf left for the East on Thursday morning in response to a message announcing the death of his mother in Midway, Ontario.
Everybody is busy with the cold nearly over greened stalks and grain haying are the latest recreations.

Around The Town

The Pioneer wishes to congratulate the little children who are taking such an active part by their donations and such a cause as this is well worthy of the children's support.

Mr. and Mrs. James Burns, who have been residing in Didsbury this summer, left on Monday for Victoria, B. C. where they will put in the winter and expect to return to Didsbury again in the spring.

Say, if this weather keeps up there will be some waiting amongst the local "stone throwers". No chance of making ice with the thermometer ranging between 29 and 69 degrees all the time.

Dr. J. V. Clarke returned from Edmonton on Saturday afternoon.
While away the Doctor had to undergo an operation from which, we are glad to report, he is recovering nicely. Mrs. Clarke, Son, of Edmonton and Mrs. (Dr.) Clarke and child, remained here on Saturday.

A debate will be held in Community Hall on Friday, November 23rd at 8 p. m. Subject: Has the people have more influence on a than books. Admission 25 cents, children under 15 free. Good music will be furnished and lunch will be served by the Mountain View Wom-plied on debt of Community Hall.

MAN-MADE MAXIMS

Jack Holt, Paramount star, in "Making a Man," a new Paramount picture coming to the Opera House next Friday and Saturday, November 23rd and 24th, is a philosopher of no mean ability. Some of his sayings are well known throughout flandom. Here are a few of them: When an extra ceases to look for glory and fame and welcomes a day's work because it means a few dollars, ambition ceases to be a cruel blow.
The presidents are not made in a day; neither do Senators rise overnight. No one can be a star on his first entrance into motion pictures.
Anybody can direct a motion picture in his own mind. It is the hard fact of actual direction that distinguish a real director.

• Buffalo Herds Grow Beyond Accommodation

A Few of the Superb Buffalo

To nearly all Canadians the news that the buffalo, which we have been accustomed to regard as nearly extinct, have recently so increased as to necessitate the slaughter of a herd of 2,000 at the Canadian Buffalo Park, Wainwright, Alberta, will come as a very pleasant surprise. The mere existence of this surplus definitely announces that, though we will never see a large wild herd again, we yet may hope to see the trails frequented with numbers of buffalo, and that this magnificent animal, Monarch of the Plains, will be always with us.

The buffalo were in their glory when the construction of the first American transcontinental railroad was begun in 1865. Herds of fifty thousand head in their common on the western plains of this continent as far south as Utah and as far north as Hudson's Bay, and as many as 100,000 robes were marketed annually. So easily were these obtained that whiskey-traders could purchase a robe for one cup of liquor. In 1871 the North-West Mounted Police, on trek for the Rockies, saw several immense herds, notably near the Sweet Grass Hills, when the force marched all day through a herd of 60,000 which blackened the horizon. This romantic scene, so vividly contrasting the wilderness and its denizens with the oncoming representatives of civilization, is surely a fit subject for artists and poets.

The work of destruction, once launched, proceeded so rapidly that by 1880 only vast quantities of buffalo bones and skulls remained to show that the great herds had ever been. The mighty half-breed Indians had fallen to collecting these skulls and bones for the sugar refineries and bone dust factories of the United States. It is worthy of note that the first eastbound freight run by the Canadian Pacific Railway was loaded with such relics.

The present encouraging state of affairs is due to the foresight of the Canadian Government, which, in 1907, purchased a small herd of buffalo in Montana and brought it over the border to form the nucleus of the 6,000 head now at Wainwright. To this wise purchase we owe the fact that the buffalo has not become merely a heraldic beast as extinct as the unicorn or the dodo.

GIVING

What you give out you get back, no matter what it is. What we get out of life in the reflex action of what we put into it. The law of attraction determines our status at all times.

A GOLDEN WEB
Better to weave in the web of life A bright and golden filling.
And do God's will with a cheerful heart,
And hands that are ready and willing.
Than to snap the delicate, minute thread
Of our curious lives asunder, And then blame heaven for tangled ends.
And sit and grieve and wonder.
—Charles Mackay.
